

Bump* WEBSITE DISCLAIMER

Bump Media Pty Ltd provides this site and its contents on the following terms and conditions. It is a condition of your use of this site and any participation in anything referred to that you accept these terms and conditions.

1. If you post anything on or contribute anything to this site, you warrant that any material will be honest and accurate. You further warrant and undertake that any material will not be in breach of any copyright, or other intellectual property rights, or be defamatory obscene or vulgar, or in breach of any law respecting discrimination.
2. You acknowledge that Bump Media Pty Ltd, and any related company or entity, together with their servants, agents, contractors, and officers, (the "Releasees") will bear no responsibility for and you hereby release them from any claim for any loss, damage or injury of any nature, caused or allegedly caused by or contributed to by anything published by the Releasees on the site or elsewhere. This release extends to cover any loss due to negligence or otherwise and includes the loss of a chance in any competition. In any competition the judge's decision shall be final and no claim may be made in any respect over the result of any competition.
3. Bump Media Pty Ltd shall retain the copyright for any and all contributions or submissions made to this website. The contributor shall hereby release Bump Media Pty Ltd and it's servants, agents, contractors and officers, ("the Releasees") from any claim, for any loss, damage or injury of any nature, caused or allegedly caused by or contributed to by anything published by the Releasees on the site or elsewhere. Bump Media Pty Ltd. reserves the right to edit, amend or alter any contributions submitted to this website for publication.
4. General Warning : All information on this site is intended for general interest and information only and is not a substitute for individual medical advice. A doctor should be consulted for all physical medical and other health matters. Every patient is different!
